Chinese Capture Key City in South Shantung

Defenders Wiping Out Japs' Second Offensive's Gains

Matowchen, Key City, Retaken by Hard Counter-Attack

JAPAN DESPERATE

Thursday Finds Invaders Boggled in Interior of China

SHANGHAI, China.—(AP)—An inspired Chinese army claimed capture of Matowchen, a key city four miles northwest of Tancheng Thursday, as continued rapid progress was reported in erasing the second big Japanese offensive in south Shantung province. Matowchen was considered a key city.

Japanese Retreating
SHANGHAI, China.—(AP)—Chinese Thursday reported continued "rapid progress" in their counter-offensive on the center of the 20-mile Shantung front where the fate of 100,000 Japanese troops daily becomes more uncertain. In addition to the 12-mile gain previously reported northeast of Taiher-chung, Chinese said they had repulsed a Japanese attack at Nikow, 10 miles to the northwest of that city, and that a column had moved around the Japanese left flank and cut communications between Tancheng and their base at Lini.

Chinese estimated 34,000 Japanese soldiers had been killed or wounded in recent days around Tancheng and Pibien, where the Japanese had made their most serious threat against the Lungai railway. Confronted with the Chinese claims, a Japanese army spokesman said only: "We have no information from the Shantung sector." To foreign military observers, it is now a puzzling question whether the Japanese attacking power really is spent or whether the invaders are merely recuperating and organizing for a final thrust. Aware of the latter possibility the Chinese high command cautiously said that the "really decisive battle" was still to come. They expected an epochal Japanese defeat similar to that which humbled the invaders at Taiherchung a month ago. Foreign military observers conceded the Japanese were in a precarious position and that if the Chinese drive continued vigorously it might end the threat to the Lungai railway. Foreign sources received a report that 2,000 Communists of the Chinese Eighth army had arrived in northwest Shantung to intensify guerrilla activities behind the Japanese lines and threaten the base of their whole Shantung campaign. These troops arrived from Shansi province after crossing Japanese communication lines.

Government of Mexico Hands Railroads Over to Organized Labor for Operation

U. S., Harrassed by Own Rail Problem, to Watch Result

Mexican Government's Direct Operation of Roads a Failure

IS UP TO THE MEN
Operation From May 1 Entirely Up to Union Organizations

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
MEXICO, D. F.—A governmental experiment unprecedented in history took place here on May 1 when Mexico hands over her vast network of railroads to the unions and says, in effect: "Here, you run them."

While the streets stream with paraders celebrating the fact that organized labor and organized farmers are definitely in the driver's seat, the railway unions will accept responsibility for managing and administering the rail lines, as well as operating them.

Up north of the Rio Grande, the United States, with a baffling railroad problem of its own, will be watching the experiment closely. In many respects, the present railroad situation in the United States is analogous to that which forced Mexico first to place the rail lines under government ownership, and now to turn them over to the unions to administer.

Never before on such a scale has a plan like this one been tried. Although the Mexican government will retain ownership—and keep a close check on the way in which the unions operate—the big job of running the National Railways of Mexico will be placed squarely on the shoulders of labor.

Government Tried and Failed
The action follows admitted failure of the government to operate successfully the vast rail network in which it has held a major interest since the turn of the century.

Harrassed by continual demands for higher pay, larger crews and better conditions sought by the railway unions, the government now says in effect: "We give up. You take the railroads, and you run them, as trustees of state property. Run them as a profit, except that you must pay the state a scale of annual payments around 5.6 per cent of gross income, varying according to the state of traffic. That is in lieu of tax revenue lost, and to pay on the railroad debt. Beyond that and the obligations to furnish good service, protect the properties against deterioration and reduce rates to the poor, you can do anything you like with the railroads."

An Old Problem
In Mexico, as in the United States, the railroad problem goes way back to the days when the roads were built with public subsidies or land grants. Often with a closer eye to getting the grants and benefits than to the real needs of the country, parallel and un-economic lines practically insured the failures which followed. Toward the end of the last century the government took over 51 per cent of the stock of the roads and assumed their tremendous debts. The minority stock and bond interest, never receiving any income, is still a subject of adjustment. During the revolutions the railroads were often taken over and operated in a military manner like those of the United States during the World War. Late last year the final step of complete expropriation was taken.

But government operation was a failure. The railway unions here are old and solidly established, and even the executive officers of the railroads, except the very highest presidential appointees, were union men. Every question of pay or personnel was naturally speedily decided in favor of the unions. The government found itself in a corner.

Hence the offer which takes effect May 1. The government retains its ownership interest. Should there be a Here's the sort of equipment with which the railroad unions will have to work when they start to operate and manage Mexican railroads. Much of the rolling stock is old, and even the newer equipment has suffered from lack of maintenance. The picture shows a scene in a railroad yard in San Luis Potosi, N. de M. stands for Nacionales de Mexico (National Railroad of Mexico).

French Cut Franc to New Low Level

Daladier Devaluates Currency to 2.79, to Buy Munitions

PARIS, France.—(AP)—The Daladier government, seeking a solid monetary base for a rearming France, Thursday fixed a new bottom for the franc at a level of 2.79 cents, or 35.80 francs to the dollar.

'Stabilization at this figure represented a devaluation of about 9 per cent from average rates of the "floating franc" of the last 10 months and brought currency to the lowest level since 1928.

The government moved to prevent profiteering and price rises under devaluation through a price census.

Can Preacher Fish on Sabbath Also?

His Claim to Other Men's Habits Is Disputed in Vermont

SPRINGFIELD, Vt.—(AP)—Aroused over the Rev. Lawrence Larrowe's recent Sabbath fishing trip and parishioners' protests, Methodist church trustees are scheduled to meet here Sunday to determine what action, if any, to take against him. The trustees will discuss these three questions: Is it unchristian to fish on Sunday? Was the pastor guilty of negligence in leaving a supply pastor to take his place when he went fishing? What action should the board take in regard to the minister's conduct?

The Rev. Mr. Larrowe left the supply pastor in his place last Sunday—opening day of the trout season. He caught eight fish, attended services in another church, and then remarked: "When I look over the day, I feel that I have spent a Christian Sunday." Mr. Larrowe said Wednesday he had received hundreds of letters from all sections of the East, some praising and some condemning his Sabbath expedition. He said he intended to preach a sermon on Mother's Day from his own pulpit on Sunday.

Pilkinton to Deliver Graduating Addresses

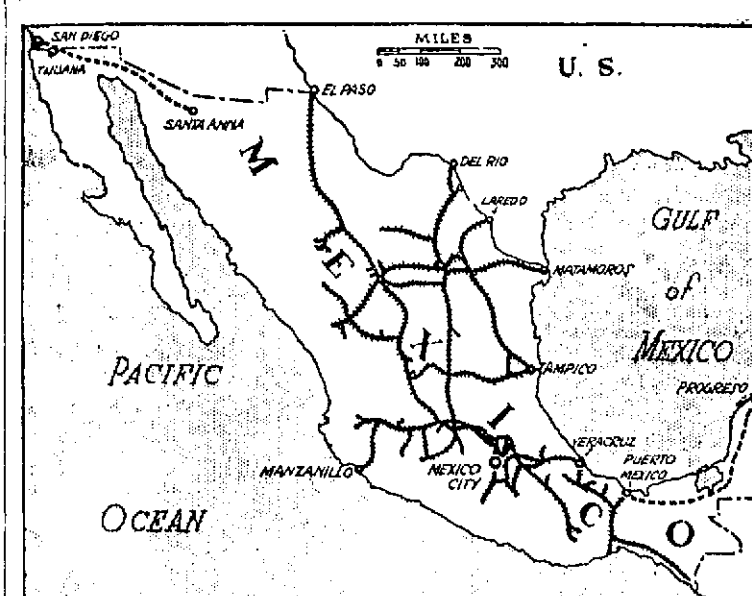

James H. Pilkinton will go to New Hope, Pike county, Friday night, to deliver the graduating address to the New Hope High School senior class.

On May 10 Mr. Pilkinton will be in Arkadelphia at Henderson State College where he will deliver the principal address at the Henderson Junior-Senior banquet.

He has also been invited to deliver the graduating address at the Rosston High School on the night of May 16.

A scene typical of any railroad station in Mexico is pictured above, showing vendors hawking their wares to tourists. Baskets, small trinkets and various items of Mexican food are the chief articles of merchandise offered for sale. Vendors like those pictured here are selling less and less, chiefly because tourist traffic from the United States has fallen off, perhaps as much as 75 per cent, since the oil expropriations.

The widespread and complicated system of Mexican railroads which the unions will be entrusted to operate is shown in the map above. The dotted line at the right shows the new railroad that is being hacked through the Yucatan jungle to establish transportation through a region which now is almost isolated. At upper left, the dotted line indicates a new road being built to connect northwestern Mexico with the border at California.

Motion to Delay Election Thrown Out by Co. Judge

Hope Petitioners Testify to Validity of Their Signatures

OVER 1,500 NAMES

35 Who Circulated Petitions Testify Before Judge Rider

County Judge Frank Rider Thursday approved the petition for an election to move the Hempstead county courthouse site from Washington to Hope and set June 11 as the voting date. Action of Judge Rider followed an unsuccessful attempt by Attorneys George Steele of Nashville and Pat Casey of Hope, representing a group of Washington landowners, to delay the setting of the election date.

Opponents against the removal asked for a period of from 20 to 30 days to examine the signatures on the petitions and the title of the old Garland school property which was deeded to the county government as the proposed site for the courthouse in Hope. This motion was denied after about 35 witnesses, in charge of circulating the petitions, testified in county court that the signatures were genuine and were signed in the presence of the persons circulating the petitions.

A total of 48 petitions was submitted to the court by Mayor Albert Graves and Attorney E. F. McFaddin, representing advocates for the removal of the courthouse site.

The petitions contained more than 1,500 signatures—which is approximately 500 more than necessary in asking the election order.

Labor Peace Offer Is Well Received by Commerce Body

A. F. of L. Urges Discarding of "Industrial Warfare"

OPTIMISM REIGNS

Many Chamber Members Heartened by Labor's Offer

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Overtures by the American Federation of Labor for a business-labor peace pact received informal approval Thursday from many delegates attending the annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

The federation statement inviting industry "to discard the weapons of industrial warfare directed against labor by employers' associations" was received distinctly conciliatory by chamber members, most of whom, like the federation, have been critical of the National Labor Relations Board and the Committee for Industrial Organization (CIO).

There was speculation over whether the chamber might respond to the declaration.

It Can Only Happen Here

THE brightest illustration of what Americanism really is was provided by—of all things—that riot between American Legion men and Nazi members of the German-American Bund in New York the other day.

After the dust had settled, a pugnacious Nazi was hauled off to court to answer charges of carrying concealed weapons—he was accused of having a trench knife in his belt. All things considered, you might have supposed that this son of the Fatherland would get pretty abrupt treatment in the court.

But it didn't work out that way. Tried before a judge who was himself an American war veteran, and defended by a Jewish lawyer, the German was found not guilty and discharged. And the judge, in discharging him, remarked on this strange combination of facts and added:

"This situation in an American court proves the worth-whileness of Americanism, a fair application of the law to all defendants regardless of nationality."

NOW there are, when you stop to think about it, precious few places in the world today where a thing like that could have happened; which is just another way of saying that exact justice as an abstract quality is honored in only a handful of countries nowadays. There are too many passions loose in the hearts of men for the spirit of fair play to get much chance to exert itself.

It would be going altogether too far, of course, to say that all American courts, at all times and places, display the even-tempered fairness which marked this case in New York. We have a long and sorry record of incidents of the opposite sorts.

YET the ideal does remain. It is there all the time for us to shoot at, and because it is there we do hit it now and then. At the very least, it does give us a soil, so to speak, which is favorable to the growth of fair play and tolerance.

And even that much, little as it is, is worth a great deal. It is the lump that leaven the loaf. For before the oppression and brutality which curse the world today can take hold of a people, that ideal must be discarded. People must be persuaded that it is a false value that needs to be discarded. They must cease even to respect it as an abstraction.

We haven't got to that point. However far we may fall short of our ideal, the ideal itself is still there to beckon us on. Some day, if we continue to look at it—and to get, every so often, concrete examples of the way it works out in actual practice—we shall reach the place where we can turn it into a daily reality.

More and More Outlooks

IT'S a confusing age, but wonderful. Speculating about the future is more fun now than it ever was, for science is dashing around in such a headlong fashion that almost any guess is probable.

There were two meetings the other day in widely separated cities. One was of chemists, the other of traffic engineers. The former were told in effect that the gasoline outlook was getting better and better, that a new process of changing natural gas into liquid gasoline would have the effect of adding 20 per cent to the life expectancy of the country's gasoline supply. The traffic engineers at the other meeting heard the principal speaker predict that the automobile of the future would not be run by gasoline but by electricity transmitted by ethereal waves.

One report doesn't cancel the other, but the latter seems to change the gasoline life expectancy all over again, and the former seems to make the latter unnecessary. It's a wonderful age, but confusing.

Life's Demands on Girl Greater Than Formerly

Nowadays more and more young women are extending their education into high schools and universities. Authorities in these institutions are beginning to give more and more attention to the problem of what can be done to build up these young women into physically normal specimens. It is interesting to see what educational authorities conceive to be the health needs of the young woman of today and of the future.

The modern girl is far more advanced in her social relationships than was a girl of the same age 25 years ago. Furthermore, the demands that are made upon her by the curriculum of education or by the work which she does in her daily life are much more than the demands that used to be placed upon young women in an earlier generation.

It must be remembered that the young woman is still an adolescent by age and by development, but that she must fit herself into the machine age—a period of speed, drive and intensity. For this very reason the modern young woman is likely to be more easily fatigued and to have a greater emotional intensity than was the case of a young woman in previous years.

Notwithstanding all that has been done to educate children as to the proper posture associated with health, young women coming into our high schools and colleges are found today in large numbers with body mechanics that are not satisfactory. They carry themselves badly; they incline to slouch and assume strange postures which indicate that they are giving little mental attention to the question of body carriage. Investigators in women's colleges report that college students, even though they represent a more or less selected group, show evidences of poor physical condition, emotional instability, lack of endurance, and disorders of function of many different types. It is, of course, only in recent years that most schools have begun to integrate the subject of health into the school curriculum.

Many of the girls of adolescent or advanced years have not had any education in their youth concerning health, and know little about their bodies as a mechanism. From the mental point of view as well as the physical, the modern girl requires attention. Modern girls are classified by the specialists into all sorts of classifications, including day-dreamers, introverts, extroverts, egocentrics, girls with superiority complexes, with inferiority and worry complexes, and other categories.

This means, of course, that these girls must be given opportunity for consultation with intelligent, sympathetic members of the faculty who will help to guide them into proper adjustment, not only in the social group with which they are involved in college but with the groups which they meet at home and in their daily work.

The modern girl's school is likely to require a personality clinic as well as a health clinic.

The British record office has state papers from as early as 1101.

MRS. SID HENRY TELEPHONE 321

I shall wear laughter on my lips
Though in my heart is pain—
God's sun is always brightest after rain.

I shall go singing down my little way
Though in my breast the dull ache grows—
The song birds come again after the snows.

I shall walk eager still for what life holds Although it seems the hard road will not end—
One never knows the beauty round
the bend!

Miss Nora Arnett of Little Rock will arrive Saturday for a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. William Hubert Fincher and Mr. Fincher at Rocky Mound.

Friends will be glad to know that
Mrs. C. A. Williams is recovering.

Colonies, Object of Hitler's Visit
But Italian View of Czecho-Slovakia Interests World

ROME, Italy—Premier Benito
Mussolini, who months ago promised his support for restoration of German colonies, received a first-hand account Wednesday of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's colonial aims.

The problem of colonies, a sore point with the Germans ever since they were stripped of foreign possessions in the World war settlement, was the main subject discussed by the two dictators in their first talks.

With Hitler the speaker most of the time and Mussolini a listener, the leaders of Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy sundwiched their conversations in between events on the state program marking Hitler's visit.

Political sources said the conversations eventually would swing around to absorption of Austria by Germany and the Italo-British pact. In everybody's mind was the effect the deliberations may have on the fate of Czecho-Slovakia, under the gun in Central Europe.

Does Mussolini agree to union of the Sudeten Germans in Czecho-Slovakia and Germany? was the question heard from many lips.

Before Hitler left Germany all things pointed to an early test of strength in Czecho-Slovakia. Konrad Henlein, leader of the 3,500,000 Germans there had the approval of Hitler and Gen. Herman Wilhelm Goerring, the Nazis' No. 2 man, in making his recent demands for political concessions.

Foreign observers believe Mussolini cannot object to union with Germany of those sections of Czecho-Slovakia which in communal elections during the ensuing week will prove to be overwhelmingly German.

Man's body always needs more fuel in the spring than at any other time of year, according to a Buffalo doctor.
Responsible, no doubt, is that miserable affliction known as the spring cold.

efficiency as the test in making appointments.

The transfer on May 1 is from the Department of Railways of the government to the Workers' Administration of the Railways (Administracion Obrera de los Ferrocarriles) which is given a separate legal entity before the law and a six million peso Treasury Bond issue as new working capital to launch the enterprise.

Still Building Roads
Under the new plan, the government will take absolutely no part in administration of the railways—the operation is entirely in the hands of the unions. The government will, however, maintain a committee which will audit railroad affairs to make sure the properties are being conserved and maintained, proper accounts kept, and the public interest generally assured.

The danger of railroad unemployment resulting from the new form of operation is not as keen as such a danger might be in the United States, for Mexico still has major railways under construction.

From Santa Anna, Sonora, a new line is being pushed across the desert toward the top of lower California, an area almost as completely isolated from Mexico proper as another country.

And from Puerto Mexico, a new line is also being backed through the Yu-catan jungle to connect with Merida and its port, Progreso. This region is now almost impenetrable, isolating Yucatan into what is almost a separated country.

Theaters Criticize Fading Film Stars

Managers Hit Garbo, West, Crawford, Hepburn and Francis

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—(AP)—A group of motion picture exhibitors said Wednesday that Greta Garbo, Mae West,
Joan Crawford, Katherine Hepburn, Kay Francis and other movie stars had lost their drawing power at the box office and should have their salaries slashed.

A representative of the movie actors countered with the charge that the statement "is the result of a group of brainfagged individuals trying to pick a fuss where none either exists or belongs."

"We want the Myrna Loy's, the Gary Coopers, the Sonja Henies, but we want them when we get value, not when they drive people away from the box office," said an advertisement of the Independent Theater Owners Association of New York, appearing in a Hollywood trade paper.

Charles Schwartz, Pacific coast representative of the group, said the advertisement was designed to "wake up the producers, in a constructive way, to the fallacy of paying top salaries on long-term contracts to stars who do not pay returns on the investment."

"We'd like to get together with the producers and have some voice in exhibiting the pictures that are unloaded on us," said Schwartz.

Irving Carlin, vice president of an association of southern California exhibitors, seconded Schwartz's comment and said that "some of these stars' pictures have to be inaugurated with $1,000 give-away night, and still the picture lays an egg."

Studio executives blamed the condition on the actors' agents, saying they had "boosted stars' salaries to the point where production can no longer be maintained on a high scale and still pay the two leading players $300,000 a picture." Paramount and Twentieth Century-Fox said they were building up young players for box office to counter-act the "excessive salary" condition.

About the stars, the advertisement
had this to say:
"Garbo is a tremendous draw in Europe, which does not help theater owners in the United States. Hepburn turned in excellent performances in "Stage Door," and "Bringing Up Baby," but both pictures died. Paramount showed cleverness and consideration for exhibitors by buying off Marlene Dietrich's contract in full for one more picture. Dietrich, too, is poison at the box office. Kay Francis is still receiving many thousands a week from Warners on an old contract. Yet so far as her draw, she is now making 'B' pictures."

Miss Hepburn and R-K-O failed to agree on a new contract, and she is free to negotiate elsewhere.

Stamp News

To be issued May 14 in connection with the celebration of National Air Mail Week, the new six-cent U. S. airmail stamp will follow the special delivery size, arranged horizontally. It will be printed in bicolor, the border in blue and the central design in red, the latter depicting an eagle with outstretched wings bearing in its talons a shield, olive wreath and a bundle of arrows.

The new airmail stamp will be placed on first-day sale at Dayton, O., home of the Wright brothers, builders of the first successful airplane, and St. Petersburg, Fla., where the first passenger flight was made. Not more than 10 addressed covers should be sent.

Inclusion of a 4½-cent White House stamp in the new regular U. S. series and the addition of a 22-cent denomination now brings the total in this group to 32 and changes the order again. The series, as revised, follows:

One-half-cent, Franklin; 1-cent, Washington; 1½-cent, Martha Washington; 2-cent, John Adams; 3-cent, Jefferson; 4-cent, Madison; 4½-cent, White House; 5-cent, Monroe; 6-cent, John Quincy Adams; 7-cent, Jackson; 8-cent, Van Buren; 9-cent, Wm. H. Harrison; 10-cent, Tyler; 11-cent, Polk; 12-cent, Taylor; 13-cent, Fillmore; 14-cent, Pierce; 15-cent, Buchanan; 16-cent, Lincoln; 17-cent, Johnson; 18-cent, Grant; 19-cent, Hayes; 20-cent, Garfield; 21-cent, Arthur; 22-cent, Cleveland; 24-cent, Benjamin Harrison; 25-cent, McKinley; 30-cent, T. Roosevelt; 50-cent, Taft; $1, Wilson; $2, Harding; $5, Coolidge.

Rate cards are now obtainable from the U. S. postmaster general giving the airmail postage rates to Mexico, Central and South America, West Indies, Bermuda, Canada and Trans-Pacific points. These are for desk use.

Urge 200 Pounds Soda for One Acre

This Amount Gives Cotton a Profitable Supply of Nitrogen

Under general average conditions, 200 pounds per acre of natural soda usually gives cotton an adequate and profitable supply of nitrogen. Experienced farmers often use considerably more to good advantage, especially under the crop, but 200 pounds is doubtless safer for the average user.

It should be split, however, about 50 pounds under and 150 pounds side dressing about chopping time. The side dressing is the secret of the results obtained by "money" farmers.

Melt chocolate and shortening together in top of double boiler. Remove from heat. Beat in sugar, then add eggs one at a time. Sift and measure flour, then sift together flour and baking powder. Add to chocolate mixture.

Stir in chopped nut meats. Bake in a greased utility dish in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 40 minutes. If desired, top with de luxe chocolate frosting.

Importance Good Breakfast Told

Body Is at Lowest Ebb in Rising—Meal Is Recommended

Recently, prominent health authorities played the "snack and run" breakfast and asserted the need for a hearty meal to start the day.

In emphasizing the importance of a good breakfast it was pointed out that upon rising the whole body is at a low ebb as a result of being without food for 13 hours—6 p. m. to 7 a. m.

The temperature is down to 96 or 97, the blood pressure is down 10 to 20 points and the pulse rate is down 4 to 8 beats. The body needs stimulation. That's why the proper breakfast means so much.

But stimulation is not the only need for a good breakfast. The body requires proper nourishment to maintain its efficiency until the next meal. This was illustrated by two noted doctors at Harvard University who were able to show that it was "hunger" not "tiredness" that lessens one's working ability toward the end of the morning.

Naturally, the people doing physical work—the farmer, the factory hand, the housekeeper—require the food energy of a substantial breakfast to sustain them until lunch. But office workers and professional people, who largely account the "snack and run" class, also need a sustaining breakfast.

Their argument for an insufficient breakfast is that a substantial meal may not leave them mentally alert. However, if they arose a bit earlier and took their time at breakfast they would find themselves as keen minded as ever, when ready to start work an hour or so later. It is that group of people who also prefer a light lunch. Therefore it is particularly important they eat a good breakfast.

Growing children, too, especially need a sustaining morning meal if they are to develop properly and be mentally alert.

A good sustaining breakfast should include a cereal, such as Quaker Oats, for it supplies food energy and other elements needed to maintain physical and mental efficiency until the noon hour.

In England, it is against the law to ask for hot water at a strange door, although it is legal to ask for cold water. Cold water is defined as a necessity of life and hot water as a luxury in an ancient statute.

Marigolds Have Rich Velvety Colors

Marigold

Rich and velvety mahogany reds and browns, crimsons, yellows and oranges are the colors which make marigolds a brilliant part of the landscape. Huge plants that grow to 4 feet tall with blossoms like chrysanthemums, and tiny sparklers no bigger than a bachelor's button are all members of this favorite flower family; and they all bloom from midsummer through fall.

Give them plenty of room to grow; 18 inches to 2 feet for the large ones is good. They like a fertile soil, but cannot stand overfeeding, which will result in spindly, rank growth of foliage at the expense of flowers and late blooming. Marigolds should spin up to a bud at once and then proceed to branch out and make good bushes.

Sow seed in the open ground only after all danger of frost is past. They can also be started indoors in a box when earlier bloom is wanted. Stake them to protect from high winds.

New marigolds of outstanding appearance are available this year. Among the desirable qualities these newest blooms possess is a delicate fragrance, which contrasts with the pungent odor of older types.

Dean Is Ordered to Rest a Month

X-ray Examination Shows Dizzy Handicapped by Sore Arm

CHICAGO.—(AP)—Dizzy Dean, the $185,000 addition to the pitching staff of the Chicago Cubs, will be lost to the team for at least four weeks. For that period he must not pitch. For at least two weeks he must not even try to throw a ball.

These were the orders of Dr. John W. Davis, Cub physician, after an X-ray examination of the star's pitching arm which followed Dean's failure to complete the game against Philadelphia Tuesday.

Dean's trouble, according to Dr. Davis' diagnosis, is a lingering inflammation of the deltoid muscle at the point of insertion with the humerus—the bone of the upper arm. After four weeks' rest, Dr. Davis is hopeful that Dean will be able to resume his regular turn on the mound.

—Muscles Seem O. K.

Said Dr. Davis: "The inflammatory condition probably results from the sub-deltoid bursitis which bothered Dean last year. Rest during the winter should have corrected the weakness, but he probably brought on the present condition by throwing too hard this year before his arm was in shape."

"The important muscles in the pitcher's arm seem to be absolutely normal and complete rest of the arm for two weeks and no hard throwing for four weeks should enable him to come back better than ever. There is no trace of injury to the bone and no trace of calcification of the muscles. It will be just a case of Dean doing all his spring training over again and it may be that he may have to be just a bit more cautious."

"I'll still win 20 games," was his prediction after taking time out to figure that he will be a month getting back into condition. In addition to being ordered to rest his arm, Dean also was instructed to run every day and get into physical condition to enable him to pitch.

Grimm Orders X-Ray
Manager Charley Grimm was responsible for ordering the X-ray examination. Dizzy has persistently maintained to Grimm that his arm was not sore, but Grimm realized that Dean was not pitching naturally. After a 40-minute workout Wednesday Grimm suddenly decided to send Dean to the hospital.

"Now we know just where we

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys—How To Get Happy Relief

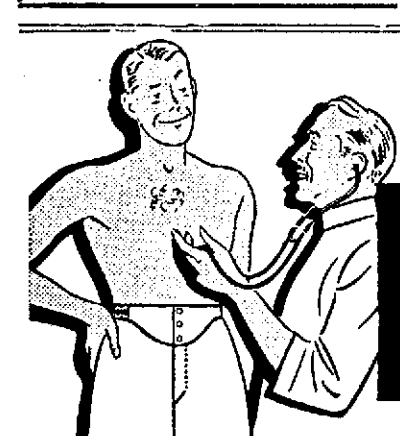

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day of about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

On the Cubs' bench, where the players had been waiting with tenseness for the physician's diagnosis, there was mingled regret and relief—regret that Dean will not resume playing for at least a month and relief that the possibility of permanent injury had been dispelled.

11 Horses Enter Kentucky Derby

64th Annual Running of $50,000 Race Is Set for Saturday

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(AP)—Stagehand, winter book favorite, was withdrawn from the Kentucky Derby Thursday by his owner after developing a high temperature.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(AP)—Eleven three-year-olds, forming the smallest but the best balanced field in many years, are expected to fight it out in the 64th running of the $50,000 Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday.

Not since Broker's Top surprised in 1933 has America's blue ribbon three-year-olds' race been so wide open.

What Saturday's field lacks in size, it makes up in quality. No less than seven of the probable starters figure to be 10 to 1 or less in the mutuels with another slightly more and only three rank outsiders.

The big six in order of their rating are: Maxwell Howard's combination of Stagehand and The Chief; William Woodward's Fighting Fox; Warren Wright's Bull Lea; Hal Price Headley's Menow; Herbert M. Woolf's Lawrin; and William du Pont, Jr.'s Dauber. Can't Wait, Myron Eitznick's Hope, is next in line followed by Eloto, owned by William O'Toole, former Chicago alderman; Bert Friend's Co-Sport, and Mountain Ridge, all that is left of what once was a powerful entry from Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Milky Way stable.

Despite Stagehand's questionable race back of his stablemate and Lawrin in Tuesday's trial stakes, the Earl Sande trained entry is expected to parade postward at the 5 to 2 choice.

While lauding The Chief's record equalling performance of 1:35 4-5 for the mile, some of the experts weakened on Stagehand, which was beaten by five lengths. Others, however, saw in his race a good conditioner for the big test.

Fighting Fox, on the strength of his fine performance in the Wood Memorial, figures to be the second choice at 3 to 1 and Bull Lea, creator of two track records at Keeneland, heavily played at 4 to 1.

Lawrin and Menow, both speed demons, are 8 to 1 shots and Dauber 10 to 1. The chances of the du Pont colt will improve, however, if the track is muddy.

With Trainer Tommy Taylor none too confident Can't Wait will carry 126 pounds the distance, the movie matinee colt is expected to be no better than 15 to 1. Below him are Eloto 30-1, Co-Sport 40-1, and Mountain Ridge 50-1.

An American Plane for Japan's War Machine

While diplomats fret over the undeclared war in China and statesmen argue about whether provisions of the neutrality act should be applied to Japan and China, many American-made planes are being shipped to the Nipponese. Here is a rather common sight in Los Angeles harbor as a fighting plane is loaded aboard a ship bound for Japan. Senator Nye has declared that the bombs that sank the American gunboat Panay in the Yangtze last December were probably made in the U. S.

Federal Retreat on Spanish Front

Storms Delay Fighting, But Insurgents Manage to Advance

HENDAYE, France, At the Spanish Front.—(AP)—Government troops retreated slowly in the Mora de Rubielos sector east of Teruel Wednesday as the insurgents increased the pressure of their offensive in eastern Spain. Intermittent rains hampered military operations but General Franco's forces methodically attacked after each storm.

The fighting centered in the area south of the Pobo mountains, some 20 miles due east of Teruel, where the insurgents are hammering at defenses fronting the town of Mora de Rubielos. The government in a counter attack near the village of El Pobo, putting up a fierce struggle for a time but finally falling back to original positions.
